

To understand the Gospel of Matthew, we have to put the writer and that particular audience into some context. So this morning it may be helpful for us to hear Matthew in the context of concentric circles. . . [Watch the video to hear more of Bill's sermon.]