

I didn't preach the sermon I had written for this week. Instead, the Spirit laid a different message on my heart.