

Today I talk about sin and how it names what Barbara Brown Taylor calls a "deep down experience in human existence." There are things in our lives for which we feel guilty and seek forgiveness through confession. We can confess because we are confident that God is loving and will forgive us.

[Today Scott preached without manuscript, so you'll need to watch/listen to learn more.]